VOL. 14, NUMBER 34 MONESSEN, PA., FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1915 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

SELECT PLAYERS FOR BENEFIT GAME

The annual ball game between the Sunnyside and Shadyside teams of Donner avenue will be staged next Friday evening at the Page grounds, and promises to be one of the greatest struggles ever witnessed in this section. Former stars of the diamond have been gathered together for this occasion and will demonstrate how the game was played in years ago.

Tickets for the contest have been printed and will be in charge of Miss Marie Watson, who will secure the service of several young ladies to canvas the town. The entire proceeds will be given to the Milk and Ice Fund for the Community Nurse. George Myford of the Monessen hotel, who has handled the indicator in many of the championship games in this district will umpire the game and will fine each player disputing his decision, the fine in turn being added to the Milk and Ice Fund.

Harry Lebowitz who will manage the Sunnyside team has announced the following players as signed by him for the game: Charles Carnes, C. Derby, Carl Bolig, Edward Sheppard, Charles McGinley, A. N. Hood, Tom Daly, W. S. Moore, John Stuart, C. S. Duvall, James Schumm, George A. Rogaliner and Morse Ney.

Guy R. Eddy, the druggist, has been selected as manager of the Shadyside team and includes in his list of stars the following: Kisseda, Ashcom, Campbell, McCabe, Vaughn, Sullivan, Culler, Sellmeyer, Hans Wagoner and Edgar Martz. The game will be called promptly at 4:30 in order that all may be able to get there.

—John E. Shields, candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket, was a visitor in town yesterday.

Ardmore To Play Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon the Independents will try conclusions with the fast Ardmore team of the Pittsburg district on the local grounds, the game to be called at 3:45. The Ardmore team is rated as one of the best in the district and defeated the Mt. Oliver team, which won from the locals by a score 2 to 1 last Saturday. Several new faces will be found in the locals lineup tomorrow, including Barnum and Elliott, Ryan or Brightwell will twirl for the Independents.

Sunday School Outing

The annual outing of the English Lutheran Sunday School was held yesterday at Lynn's Grove, and was one of the most pleasant and successful picnics that the congregation ever held. Members and friends kindly donated their autos for the occasion and every one got to the grounds quickly and pleasantly. Mr. Wright sent his large truck to carry the baskets laden with good things to eat. So with fair skies, a pleasant grove, happy children and grown-ups becoming children for the day, every one had a good time and were glad for the holiday.

The members and officers of the church wish to thank those who helped out with the transportation of the children and the provisions.

Open Saturday

The new milk depot and ice cream parlor of T. Campana at 437 Donner avenue will be open to public Saturday at which time carnations will be given each lady visitor and cigars to the gentlemen. Mr. Campana was formerly located on Schoonmaker avenue and has built a large trade with his milk business selling the product of the famous Piersol farm. In his new quarters he has furnished one of the largest and neatest appearing establishments in the city and will be glad to welcme old and new customers on the opening date. Many improvements are being made at the ice cream parlor, which is the lagest in the city and he expects to have a formal opening of the parlor in the near future.

INJURED WOMAN HAS RECOVERED

One of the most remarkable recoveries in the present day surgery is reported at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, Mrs. Lucy Chamberlain, aged 23 years of South Brownsville yesterday having left the hospital with what would have ordinarily been a death wound, completely through her chest nearly healed. Dr. A. O. Davis, her physician says her recovery is sure, and this afternoon took at his office took an x-ray photograph of the wound.

Mrs. Chamberlain was riding in a jitney bus driven by Samuel Fox of Speers on Monday evening, June 14 when the bus collided with a wagon driven by Lester Waggoner of Charleroi. In the collision, the shafts of the wagon swung so that one of them struck Mrs. Chamberlain almost directly over the heart.

Though the shaft was an inch and one-half in diameter on the point, it went through the body. It pushed the heart aside, drove a steel corset rib into the left lung and penetrated the aoesophegus (this being the cartileginous canal to the stomach) before coming out her back. Mrs. Chamberlain was pulled from the protruding shaft by "Fergy" Urwin, who was in the machine, and rushed to Dr. Davis' office apparently in a dying condition. Later she was removed to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, and placed upon the operating table. From the first practically no hopes were entertained for her recovery. In spite of her injury she talked readily.

For five days after she entered the hospital, liquids swallowed by Mrs. Chamberlain came out her back. A state of gangrene set in, but nature proved a wonderful purifier in her case and this poisonus condition was largely relieved. In her back the wound was so large that a man's three fingers could be inserted. In the breast the hole was larger.

NEWSPAPERS WILL GIVE BIG OUTING

The first Monogahela valley outing ever given by the Monongahela Valley Press Association is now being announced to be held at Eldora park on Wednesday, August 4, and newspapers all along the valley that are represented in the association are starting preparations for the event.

The outing will be made one of the old-fashioned kind, and will be for everybody. Few towns in the valley are planning town picnics for this year, so the newspapers are taking it upon themselves to give a valley outing under the name of the press association. Instead of the outing being an outing just from one town it will be an outing from several towns, and better arrangements will be made for caring for the crowds than could be made for any one-town outing.

The park will be thrown open to the public. Papers represented in the association will print coupons. Though the coupons will be for the women and children only, the picnic will be for everybody.

Ample arrangements will be made at the park for the entertainment of everybody. Besides park amusements which are to be free to the public, there will be separate features arranged. Races and other athletic events that will carry with them prizes for the winners will be on the program. Further announcement of other features will be made later.

To make the event all the more interesting and enjoyable the Eldora park management is arranging to entertain the members of the press association with their wives at the park supper annually given the "pencil pushers". Plans for this event will be laid together with plans for the big free outing.

Boxing Match

Promoter Jack Mier will bring his string of fighters to the front tomorrow night at the Charleroi rink and expects to return every one a winner. A large crowd of local fighting fans will make the trip to the Magic City to cheer the boys to victory. The events will be held in the Charleroi Skating rink. Battling Shultz, heralded as the coming champion will meet Kid Levine of Pittsburg in the main bout, Eddie Nevil the Donora lad will have Bud Craig of Castle Shannon as his opponent. Hec. Pillet, the local lad will stack up against Johnny Todd of Donora and young Jones of this city and Willie McGinty of Charleroi will open the show with a good bout.

Registration Of Republicans Large

The assessors of the various voting precincts of the county are making their registration returns to the county commissioners now and from all indications Monessen will take the the lead in the number of Republican voters registered. Up until noon yesterday about eighty returns were made, showing that 11,432 Republicans were registered. Should that ratio of increase in the registration continue the 30,000 mark will in all probability be reached by the Republicans.

An accurate tally of the number of registrations made by the assessors upon the days indicated by the law upon which the work must be completed shows conclusively that the Washington party registration is not one-twentieth of the registration of last year. In many localities there was no Washington party registration, and in dozens of others the registration of the party was so small that the assessor did not think it worth while to make an item of the number.

THIRTY DAYS FOR BEATING WIFE

Only one prisoner faced Burgess Dunlap at the police court this morning, this being William Carney, a peg leg character about town, who has served time both in the borough bastile and county jail for practically everything from drunkenness to horse stealing. This time his wife charged him with beating her until she was black and blue and kicking her about the house like a foot ball. The prisoner had little defense to offer and as a result he will spend the next 30 days in Greensburg jail. Officer McLaughlin took his prisoner to the county seat on the morning train.

THE BROKEN COIN

A Story of Mystery and Adventure

By EMERSON HOUGH

From the Scenario by GRACE CUNARD

COPYRIGHT, 1915, BY WRIGHT A PATTERSON

SYNOPSIS.

Kitty Gray, newspaper woman, finds in a curio shop half of a broken coin, the mutilated inscription on which arouses her curiosity and leads her, at the order of her managing editor, to go to the principality of Gretzhoffen to piece out the story suggested by the inscription. She is followed, and on arrival in Gretzhoffen her adventures while chasing the secret of the broken coin begin.

THIRD INSTALLMENT

CHAPTER XI.

The King of Gretzhoffen.

"You majesty does me honor."

It was with simple dignity that the young American girl spoke these words to the monarch in whose presence she found herself fresh from her late adventures.

"We could not too much honor so charming a representative of your great country, my dear young lady," said Michael.

"Do not misunderstand me, your majesty," resumed the young woman. "It is more than possible I have been brought before you under false pretenses. I am not a person of rank, am indeed but a prisoner taken yonder by outlaws. But for the wit of my servant I think I might have been held for a ransom."

"It were large ransom would be fit for such hostage as yourself, mademoiselle. Whatever it was it would have been paid, had we but known!"

"I thank you, sire. Perhaps there will be no future need. In sooth, from the way the bandit chieftain looked on another of our party, I would rather think he would prefer him to myself as hostage."

"Whom do you mean?"

"The Count Frederick, sire."

"Again the Count Frederick! He seems always to come into my affairs." The annoyance in the king's face was unmistakable.

"He has been much concerned in my own."

"How, mademoiselle?"

"I must explain? Sire, I came to your country only in my professional capacity—I had no more urgent errand than to find the half of a certain missing coin. The other half had come into my possession by chance. It was my fancy—"

"What, a broken coin? You interest me. Mademoiselle, I felt from the first moment that eventually we would find some common ground of interest. A coin—a broken coin—I know of some such thing myself. There are current stories about it. See, I have it, for my good friend Frederick seems for some strange reason to have a fancy for it himself Would you like, then, to see it?"

Kitty's eyes flashed in eagerness.

"Above all things, sire! It would complete my happiness to see it."

"Then you shall, assuredly."

He bowed in somewhat adipose gallantry as she extended her hand toward the pudgy palm in which lay the object which for her held such interest. In a glance she saw the identity of the missing half. The remaining words of the inscription—they were there, she was sure. "Torture chamber—treasures of the king;" it was plain to her. These two pieces of metal joined would represent a story worth the having.

"Do you not desire it, then?" The voice of the monarch carried a certain reproach.

"Desire it, your majesty! I should desire nothing so much in all the world. With both halves in my hand—sire, I should feel that the world was mine."

"Why not gratify that wish then, mademoiselle? Listen. Count Frederick desired this very trinket—for a lady, he said. Here is a lady who desires it for herself. Why should we not give it her—why should we not have right as good as his?"

"You cannot mean it for me?"

"But yes, precisely! And listen, my dear young lady. There is something about this broken coin which begins to annoy me. Count Frederick is always referring to it for one reason or another—he has some motive which I cannot divine Now, of late I have had abundant troubles, many persons who importune me In these serious times, the people being so discontented, we have matters of more importance than to trifle with this trinket, as I say. You desire it. It bores me. Who better than yourself should own it if you like?"

Kitty stood looking at him, scarce believing what he said. King Michael went on:

"Two things interest me today, my dear lady. First, how to quiet my people; the second, to discover some fashion which shall keep you here in our own country, interested and useful I am convinced of your own wisdom, your own justice—your own experience in your land as to law and liberty and justice. Sometimes out of the mouth of a woman—a lady of rank, of experience—one might learn the better how to carry on the duties of a state."

"And the duties of the state would dispose your majesty wholly to the good of his people?"

"Precisely. It is as I would have said it, mademoiselle. You Americans are extraordinary."

Kitty took from his hand the broken bit of metal and regarded it thoughtfully.

"I thank you more than I can tell, your majesty," said she, soberly. "It shall be my mission to find out for your people the uncompleted message of this coin"

A silver bell sounded afar in the hall, announcing the approach of a servant. An official of the palace entered and stood motionless near the door.

"What then, Andreas?"

"The Count Frederick of Gretzhoffen; the Count Sachio of Grahaffen."

"Let them enter, Andreas."

Both gentlemen bowed deeply as they entered and each kissed the royal hand respectfully. Kitty ignored Count Sachio and bowed but coldly to Count Frederick

Count Frederick, in whose mind seemed to linger but scant remembrance of any unpleasant scenes in which he had figured, smiled now, and after the American fashion, as he fancied, held out his hand.

Kitty could not refuse it. Quickly she shifted the broken bit of coin from her right hand to her left—quickly, but not so quickly as to escape the keen eyes of the man who faced her now.

"Count Sachio, you are welcome from your kingdom to ours. I believe you have never heard of the young American of distinction who has come among us of late—you have not met?"

Kitty looked calmly at the count and made no reply

"Pas encore, votre maieste" replied Sachio in the common language used at court with strangers present. "Not yet." His face flushed deeply as he lied.

The Man Listened Respectfully and Took the Missive.

"Ah, very well, then it is time. At the ball perhaps we shall all be present. Mademoiselle, your invitation shall come from us duly."

Kitty took this to be her dismissal, and with deep thanks and the best curtsy she could muster, bowed herself from the room, after to be escorted by a grave official to her car.

FRIDAY AT OLYMPIC—Now for Friday. What will we say? Sit down and listen. Our dreams are solved. Moving pictures beneath the sea are now a reality. Scientists declare that with the perfection of the Williamson submarine tube, the first and only one upon the face of the earth. The moving picture world will soon be able to solve the secrets of the deep which have heretofore been clouded in mystery.

There are more treasures beneath the sea than on this earth. With this great invention we will soon restore all gold, silver, ivory and innumerable precious stones, when mankind may quit their slaughtering due to the lack of living necessitites. You will see the wonders of the bottom of the sea, which in many places are like the beautiful gardens of California. You will see the tiger of the sea, killed his lair. Williamson faces the terrors of the deep, eludes the ugly teeth of the shark and plunges a knife into his belly. It is the eight wonder of the world positively. Prices will be 15c and 25 cents.

SATURDAY—"The Ulster Lass," in two reels, an Irish drama, featuring Gauntier. The next is "Was she a Vampire?" featuring E. Maison. Also the Joker and the ninth chapter of the greatest serial picture on the market, "The Diamond from the Sky," in which every chapter is getting better, like "The Broken Coin.
